Subject: Response to Immigration New Zealand PPI Letter Dated 8 April 2025

Dear Paige,

Further to our previous correspondence and the response submitted in relation to the Potentially Prejudicial Information (PPI) letter dated 8 April 2025, I wish to provide additional information on behalf of my client, Mr Wei Tan.

Mr Tan continues to be mindful of his obligations under his visitor visa and wishes to reaffirm his respect for New Zealand's immigration laws. Since the beginning of the process, Mr Tan has remained committed to ensuring his conduct aligns fully with his visa conditions, taking considerable care to avoid any activities that could be construed as work or the operation of his New Zealand company, Winter Sports Limited.

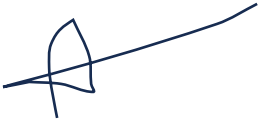

Following his receipt of correspondence from the Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (MBIE) regarding his company's compliance with the Companies Act 1993, Mr Tan made the decision to arrange his departure from New Zealand. He recognised that addressing the company's compliance requirements—particularly the need to appoint a New Zealand resident director—would be more appropriately managed from offshore, through the engagement of qualified professionals. His confirmed itinerary shows he will depart from Queenstown to Melbourne on 13 May 2025 (attached).

Mr Tan further acknowledges that, as the PPI process remains open and no decision has yet been made by Immigration New Zealand, he will not attempt to return to New Zealand until such time as the case officer has completed the assessment and communicated a decision regarding the concerns raised. He understands that although his visitor visa remains valid, the PPI may now be visible in INZ's internal systems and could result in him being denied boarding clearance should he attempt to return prematurely.

This information is submitted in good faith as an update to demonstrate Mr Tan's ongoing compliance and transparency in dealing with all matters related to his visitor visa. His voluntary departure, prompted by the MBIE correspondence, reinforces his commitment to upholding both New Zealand's immigration and company law requirements and ensures that all matters are dealt with appropriately and lawfully from offshore.

We trust this update assists your ongoing consideration of the case, and we remain available should any further clarifications be required.

Yours Sincerely,

TATIANA ELVERY

✈ Important Notes

1. You have read and agreed with our full terms and conditions.
2. You have confirmed that all names, passport information, contact details and flight details are all correctly booked. Incorrect information on names, contact details, passport information may result your booking being cancelled and/or denied for boarding.
3. You have confirmed that you hold all the necessary documentations, i.e. valid passport (Passenger's passports must have at least six months validity remaining after their intended departure from the country they are visiting), visa, and meet all the legal requirements of all the countries on your journey. We do not provide any information or advice on visa requirements to any customers.

4. Your round-trip ticket or one-way ticket may consist of several segments; such flight segments are to be used in sequence. If not, airlines will refuse transport on subsequent flight segments (e.g. failure to use one segment of a journey could invalidate the rest of the ticket).
5. Missed check-in deadline or failure to board within the required time is considered as No-show and ticket will become non-refundable.
6. We strongly recommend you to purchase suitable travel insurance policy so you can travel with peace of mind.
7. To protect your privacy, we are unable to disclose or discuss your travel information with anyone other than yourself or who made the booking on your behalf (contact person in your booking), without written approval.
8. To simplify the booking process, we do not ask and store passport information on some itineraries where passport information is not regulatorily mandatory at point of booking made, but reserve the rights of request such information where/when necessary, i.e. we are legally required to submit passport/visa copy to process refund of an international ticket.
9. In the event of an involuntary flight schedule change or cancellation, it is essential that you contact us to discuss rebooking or refunding the tickets. We will then assess the situation and advise on alternative flight options in accordance with the Flight Schedule Change policy of the airlines operating your flights. It's imperative that you refrain from purchasing a new replacement flight without consulting us first. While you may have the right to do so, please note that you will be responsible for the costs of the new flight, and we will not provide compensation for this replacement flight.
10. If your booking includes products that can be refunded or changed, please handle them separately.
